

Hey [Sibling's Name],

I just had to sit down and write to you because I honestly can't get over the amazing birthday present you gave me! You always know exactly what I like (or maybe you just know me way too well ðŹ™,), but this time you totally outdid yourself.

Unwrapping your gift made my whole day extra special. I couldn't stop smiling and kept showing it off to everyone like a little kid. It really brought back those funny childhood memories when we'd try to guess what was inside each other's presents. I have to say-your gift-giving game is still unbeatable!

Thank you so much for always making my birthdays memorable, not just with awesome gifts, but with all the love and thought you put into everything. I'm seriously lucky to have you as my sibling and my partner in crime. The present means even more because it came from you.

Let's catch up soon-maybe over some cake leftovers? Text me when you're free!

Sending you tons of love (and plotting your next surprise gift already!),

[Your Name]