Dear Alex,

I hope this letter finds you well! It feels like ages since we last caught up, so I thought I'd take some time to let you in on all that's been happening at our end.

First off, Mom just celebrated her birthday last weekend—we threw her a small surprise party at home. She was so thrilled, and you should have seen her face when she realized what we had planned. Emily baked her famous chocolate cake, which disappeared in no time!

Speaking of Emily, she made the school soccer team this year! We're all so proud of her, and Dad's already become her number one fan, never missing a single match. I'm sure you can imagine his enthusiastic cheers from the sidelines.

As for me, work has been keeping me busy as ever, but I've recently taken up gardening to unwind in the evenings. It's surprisingly relaxing, and we now have a small patch of homegrown tomatoes and basil. Maybe next time you visit, we can whip up some pasta together!

Let us know what's new with you. We miss you and hope you can come visit soon. Sending lots of love to you and your family!

Take care,
Jamie
