Dear Grandma and Grandpa,

I hope this letter finds you both happy and well! We've all been thinking about you lately, and I wanted to share some updates about what's been happening with the family.

The kids are growing up so fast-Emma just started piano lessons and she absolutely loves it. Last weekend, she played "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star" for us, and it was the sweetest thing. Jack, on the other hand, is obsessed with soccer and scored his first goal in a game last Saturday! We all cheered so loudly that people probably thought we'd won the championship.

Dad finally finished his backyard project. Remember how he's always wanted that vegetable garden? Well, now we have tomatoes and cucumbers popping up everywhere. You'll have to come by soon to taste them; I know Grandma always has the best tips for gardening.

We miss you both and often talk about the fun times we've had together. Your stories always bring smiles to our faces, and your kindness is something we cherish every day.

Please write back when you get a chance-we'd love to hear what you've been up to lately. Maybe we can plan a visit soon or even a family video call if you'd like!

Sending lots of love and hugs your way.

Take care and talk soon!

Love,
