

Dear Applicant,

We regret to inform you that after careful consideration, your application to our university was not successful this time. We understand that this news may be disappointing, and we want to acknowledge the effort and dedication you put into your application.

However, we strongly encourage you to continue pursuing your academic and personal goals with determination and resilience. Many successful individuals have encountered setbacks similar to this, and it is often through these experiences that growth and new opportunities arise. We believe in your potential and hope you will use this moment as motivation to keep striving toward your aspirations.

Please remember that there are many educational paths available to you. We encourage you to explore other opportunities, continue building your skills, and consider reapplying in the future. Your dreams are valuable, and perseverance is key to achieving them.

We wish you the very best in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,
