

Hey [Cousin's Name]!

I can barely sit still long enough to write this â€“ my heart is doing cartwheels (and maybe the moonwalk) because YOU'RE ENGAGED! Ahh! I'm grinning so much my cheeks hurt. Seriously, I can hardly believe my favorite partner-in-crime is taking this huge, magical leap. Pinch me if this isn't the best news ever!

Remember those childhood days when we'd play pretend weddings in Grandma's backyard-stealing her old lace curtains and putting flower crowns on our heads? Who knew that old â€œwedding marchâ€ with the pots and pans would be such a prelude to real life! Now, it's not just pretend, and you've found someone who clearly knows how amazing you are (not that it's hard to see!).

I'm so genuinely thrilled for you and [FiancÃ©'s Name]. I can already picture the two of you planning adventures, building a home full of laughter, and filling every day with that wild, goofy happiness you both share. If you ever need a cake taster, dance-floor hype-person, or embarrassing childhood stories revived for the toast, I'm your go-to!

This is only the beginning, and I just know your life together will be painted with love, joy, and all sorts of adventures. May every morning bring new laughter, every evening a deeper connection, and every year more wonderful memories. You both deserve the biggest slice of happiness-in fact, make it two slices and save me a corner, will ya?

Celebrating you always (with confetti and awkward dance moves),

[Your Name]
