

Sample Informal Letter: Inviting a Friend to a Sports Event

Hey Alex,

I hope you're doing great! It's been a while since we last hung out, and I was just thinking about how much fun we always have together. Guess what? There's an amazing basketball match happening this Saturday at the city arena, and I really want you to come with me!

The game starts at 5 PM, and our local team is playing against their biggest rivals. The atmosphere is going to be electric, and I can't wait to cheer for our team – it won't be the same without you there! We can grab some snacks, catch up, and enjoy all the excitement together.

Let me know if you can make it. I really hope you'll join me for this – it would be awesome to hang out and share all the fun!

Looking forward to your reply.

Cheers,

Mike
