

Dear [Neighbor's Name],

I just wanted to reach out after hearing about your recent stay in the hospital. I've been thinking about you and truly hope you are on the mend and feeling better each day. Please know you've been missed around the neighborhood, and everyone is wishing you a speedy and comfortable recovery.

If there's anything I can do to help-whether it's running errands, picking up groceries, or just keeping you company for a chat-don't hesitate to let me know. We're neighbors, but more than that, we're here to look out for each other.

Take it easy while you recover; your health comes first. Wishing you plenty of rest, strength, and a smooth path to feeling like yourself again. Remember, you're not alone-you've got friends right next door.

Get well soon!

Warm wishes,
[Your Name]
