Dear [Applicant's Name],

Thank you for your interest in [College Name] and for taking the time and effort to submit your application. We appreciate the opportunity to learn about your achievements, talents, and aspirations.

After careful consideration of your application and supporting materials, we regret to inform you that we are unable to offer you admission for the [fall/spring] semester of [year]. This decision was reached following a comprehensive and competitive review process that saw many exceptional candidates vying for a limited number of spots. While your accomplishments are truly impressive, our selection process requires us to make difficult choices based on a variety of factors, including academic records, extracurricular involvement, and institutional priorities.

We understand that this news may be disappointing. Please know that this decision is not a reflection of your abilities or potential, but rather the result of an extraordinarily competitive applicant pool. Many successful individuals have faced similar setbacks and have used such moments as opportunities for growth and self-discovery.

In times of disappointment, it is important to remember that your path forward is still filled with countless possibilities. We encourage you to continue pursuing your academic goals with passion and resilience. Use this experience as a chance to reflect on your strengths and areas for growth. Consider exploring alternative colleges, programs, or opportunities that align with your ambitions-sometimes, the most rewarding journeys begin in unexpected places.

Rejection is never the end; it is often the beginning of a new chapter. Many renowned individuals credit their successes to the resilience they developed through setbacks. Embrace your unique qualities, remain confident in your abilities, and stay open to new experiences. We have no doubt that you will achieve great things wherever you choose to continue your educational journey.

We wish you the very best in your future endeavors and thank you again for your interest in [College Name].

Sincerely,
[Admissions Officer's Name]
