

Sample Informal Letter to Grandparents Explaining Exam Results and Future Plans

Dear Grandma and Grandpa,

I hope this letter finds you both in good health and spirits. I have been thinking about you a lot lately and wanted to share some updates about my recent exams and what I plan to do next.

My exam results are out, and I wanted to let you know that I did my best. I'm quite happy to tell you that I scored well in most of my subjects, especially in English and Science. I worked really hard, and it feels great to see my efforts pay off. However, I faced a few challenges with Math this time, and my grade wasn't as high as I hoped. I'm not discouraged, though! I have already started practicing more and have joined a study group to make sure I improve.

Your encouragement has always motivated me to keep going, even when things get tough. I am truly grateful for your support, kind words, and prayers—they mean the world to me.

As for my future plans, I am thinking about focusing more on the sciences. I've become very interested in biology and hope to pursue it further in college. I have also been considering some career options like medicine or research, but I'm keeping an open mind and exploring different possibilities.

Thank you again for being such wonderful grandparents and always cheering me on. Your wisdom and love inspire me every day. I can't wait to visit you soon and talk more about my dreams and goals.

With lots of love,
