

Dear [Writer's Name],

Thank you very much for submitting your work to [Publication/Company Name]. We truly appreciate the time, passion, and creativity you invested in your submission. Reviewing your piece was a pleasure, and it's clear you have a unique voice and genuine enthusiasm for writing.

At this time, we have decided not to move forward with your submission. This decision was not easy, as we received many entries and had to make tough choices based on our editorial needs and current content direction.

However, we want to encourage you to keep writing and refining your skills. Freelance writing is a journey, and every experience, including setbacks, offers valuable lessons and opportunities to grow. If you're looking for ways to improve, consider seeking out writing workshops, exploring different genres, or connecting with writer communities for feedback and inspiration.

Your dedication and potential are evident, and we hope you will continue to pursue freelance opportunities. We look forward to seeing your work in the future and encourage you to submit again.

Thank you again for sharing your work with us. Wishing you every success on your writing journey!

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
