

Letter of Recommendation Addressing Low GPA for Medical School

To the Admissions Committee,

I am writing to provide my highest recommendation for [Applicant's Name] as a candidate for your medical school program. I have had the privilege of working with [Applicant's Name] in my capacity as [Your Title, e.g., Professor of Biology] at [Your Institution] for the past [number] years, and I am delighted to offer my perspective on their character, abilities, and potential.

While [Applicant's Name]'s GPA may not place them at the very top of their cohort, I believe it is essential to provide context regarding this aspect of their academic record. During their undergraduate studies, [Applicant's Name] faced [briefly explain circumstances, e.g., significant family or health challenges, financial responsibilities, adjustment periods]. Despite these obstacles, [Applicant's Name] consistently demonstrated resilience, perseverance, and an unwavering commitment to growth and learning.

Importantly, [Applicant's Name] exhibited marked improvement and academic maturity throughout their later coursework, as seen in their strong performance in [mention specific upper-level or science courses, relevant labs, or clinical experiences]. Beyond academics, their contributions to our campus community have been exemplary. Their work as [role, e.g., a volunteer at the campus health center, research assistant, etc.] has highlighted their compassion for others, ability to work collaboratively in high-pressure environments, and genuine passion for healthcare.

[Applicant's Name] possesses qualities that I believe are essential for a successful medical professional: adaptability, determination, empathy, and a robust work ethic. It is evident that their experiences facing and overcoming adversity have instilled in them a deep sense of purpose and a remarkable level of resilience—traits that will serve them exceptionally well in the demanding environment of medical school and future clinical practice.

In summary, while a number does not define the capabilities or potential of an applicant, [Applicant's Name] has proven—through both character and action—that they are fully prepared for the rigors and responsibilities of your program. I give my full endorsement to [Applicant's Name]'s application without reservation, confident that they will thrive and make meaningful contributions to the field of medicine.

Please feel free to contact me if you require any additional information.

Sincerely,
