

Informal Apology Letter to a Classmate for Being Late

Hey [Classmate's Name],

I just wanted to say I'm really sorry for being late the other day. I know you were waiting and it must have been super annoying for you. I didn't mean to keep you waiting and I feel pretty bad about it.

Honestly, I got caught up with something at home and totally lost track of time. I should have texted you right away, but I was rushing and just didn't think straight. I know being on time is important, and I get that my delay was inconvenient for you.

I promise I'll do my best to be on time in the future. Thanks for being patient with me, and I hope you're not too upset. Let's catch up soon as usual!

See you around,
[Your Name]
