Dear Admissions Committee,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to formally request a deferment of my admission to [University Name] for the [Year/Term] academic year due to unforeseen financial hardship.

I am truly honored to have been offered admission to [Program Name] at [University Name], and I am eager to join the university community. Unfortunately, due to unexpected financial obstacles, including [briefly describe your situation, e.g., job loss in the family, medical expenses, etc.], my family and I are currently unable to meet the necessary financial commitments for the coming academic term.

It is with respect and humility that I ask for the possibility to defer my enrollment until [next available term/year], in hopes of resolving these financial difficulties and securing the funds required to fully participate in all aspects of university life. I am committed to pursuing my education at [University Name] and will utilize this time to seek additional financial aid, scholarships, and part-time employment to better prepare myself financially.

I would greatly appreciate your consideration of my situation and any guidance or support you may be able to provide regarding the deferment process. Please let me know if any further documentation or information is required.

Thank you very much for your understanding and for considering my request. I am sincerely grateful for the opportunity to pursue higher education at [University Name], and I look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,
