

Hey Alex,

How's it going? It's been way too long since we last caught up, so I wanted to sit down and write you a quick note to fill you in on what's been happening over here.

First off, guess what? I finally landed that job I was telling you about! It feels surreal to say I'm officially part of the team at GreenTech Solutions. The first couple of weeks have been a whirlwind, but so far everyone has been super welcoming. I'm still figuring things out, but it's exciting to be working on projects that actually interest me.

On the home front, things have been pretty chill. My little sister just got accepted into her dream college-so proud of her! We've been celebrating with lots of cake and late-night movie marathons. Oh, and I picked up painting again; who knew flinging paint could be so therapeutic?

How about you? How's your new apartment treating you? Have you finally mastered that kitchen of yours, or are you still relying on takeout? I miss our epic cook-offs and random adventures around town.

Let's plan a video call soon-it's been ages since we had a proper catch-up. Let me know what your schedule looks like!

Take care and write back soon. I can't wait to hear all your news!

Big hugs,
Jamie
