

Dear [Teacher's Name],

I hope you are doing well. I am writing to say sorry for not handing in my homework on time. I know it was due on [Due Date], and I should have turned it in, but I couldn't manage to complete it by the deadline.

I realize this is not acceptable and I take full responsibility for it. The reason I was late is because [briefly explain reason, e.g., "I was struggling to understand some parts of the assignment" or "I had some personal issues at home"]. I know that's not an excuse, but I wanted you to know what happened.

I promise to be more careful with my time and make sure it doesn't happen again. Thank you for your understanding and patience. If there's any way I can make up for it or if you want me to redo the work, please let me know.

Sorry again for the trouble.

Best regards,
[Your Name]
