

Dear Grandma and Grandpa,

I hope this letter finds you both in good health and great spirits! I have been thinking about you a lot and wanted to share some wonderful things that happened during my summer vacation.

This summer was so much fun. Our family went on a road trip to the mountains, and it was beautiful! We hiked through the woods, saw waterfalls, and even had a picnic by a lake. I remembered the stories you always tell me about your adventures, and I wished you were there with us.

Besides the trip, I tried a few new things at home. I learned how to ride my bike without training wheels (finally!) and started helping Mom in the garden. We even grew some tomatoes and sunflowers. Dad taught me how to play chess, and now I can almost beat him!

One of my favorite things was spending time with my friends. We played outside, had sleepovers, and watched movies together. There was a summer fair in our neighborhood, and I won a prize for the best drawing in the art contest. I made a picture of our family which I'll show you when we next visit.

I miss the cookies you bake and your bedtime stories, Grandma. Grandpa, I can't wait to play cards and listen to your funny jokes again. I hope you're both doing well, and I'm looking forward to spending time together soon.

Sending you lots of love, hugs, and kisses!

Yours lovingly,
