Subject: Rejection of Project Proposal Due to Technical Limitations

Dear [Applicant Name/Team],

Thank you for submitting your project proposal, titled "[Project Title]", to [Organization Name]. We appreciate the time, effort, and innovation demonstrated in your proposal and value your interest in collaborating with us.

After thorough evaluation by our technical review committee, we regret to inform you that we are unable to move forward with your project at this time. This decision is based primarily on specific technical limitations identified during our assessment, which currently hinder the feasibility and successful implementation of your proposed solution. Below, we have outlined the core technical challenges that factored into our decision:

- Insufficient Infrastructure: Our organization currently lacks the required infrastructure, such as [e.g., advanced computing resources, networking equipment, or specialized facilities], which is essential for supporting the scale and complexity of your proposed project.
- Lack of Compatible Technology: The proposal relies on technologies or systems that are not presently integrated within our technology stack. Significant investments and time would be needed for integration and compatibility, which are currently beyond our operational scope.
- Inadequate Resources: Due to limitations in our available technical staff, expertise, and financial resources, we are unable to allocate the support necessary to ensure the successful deployment and maintenance of the project.

While we are unable to accept your proposal in its current form, we genuinely appreciate your initiative and ideas. We encourage you to consider revising your proposal to better align with our existing technical capabilities, or to submit new proposals that address the challenges outlined above.

Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions or would like further feedback regarding our technical evaluation. We value your ongoing interest in working with [Organization Name] and look forward to potential future collaborations.

Sincerely,
