

Hey [Friend's Name],

I hope you're doing well! I was just thinking about our amazing vacation and all the fun moments we shared. I can't believe how quickly time flew by—it already feels like ages ago!

I wanted to ask if you could share some of the pictures you took during the trip. You always manage to capture the best shots, and I'd love to relive those memories, especially the ones from our day at the beach and that hilarious dinner we had. If you have any group photos or funny candid shots, please send those too!

No rush, just whenever you have a chance. It would mean a lot to have those memories to look back on. Thanks so much in advance!

Hope to catch up with you soon.

Take care,
