

Dear [Cousin's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well! It's been ages since we last caught up, and I really miss our long chats. A lot has been happening here lately with the family, and honestly, I could really use your advice.

Things at home have been a bit complicated. [Briefly describe the family matter, e.g., "You probably heard that Mom and Dad have been arguing a lot lately about finances, and it's started to affect the atmosphere at home. I'm not really sure how to help or whether I should even get involved, but it's been stressing me out."] I know you've gone through similar situations, so I thought you might have some advice on how to deal with it.

On top of that, [mention any other updates, e.g., "Grandma's health has been up and down. She keeps saying she's fine, but I can tell she's worried, and I want to be there for her more."]. Sometimes, I feel caught in the middle and I don't always know the right thing to say or do.

If you have any ideas or suggestions on how I could handle all this, I would really appreciate it. You always have a way of seeing things from a different perspective, and it would mean a lot to hear your thoughts.

Apart from all that drama, I hope things are good on your end. Let me know how you're doing and if you have any news! Would love to catch up soon, maybe over a call or when you visit next.

Thanks for always being there for me, no matter what. Write back when you get a chance!

Take care,

[Your Name]
