

Dear Jamie,

I hope this letter finds you well! I just had to share the incredible adventure my family and I had last week-we went on a road trip that I'll never forget.

We set off early Saturday morning, the car packed to the brim with snacks, games, and everyone's favorite playlists. Our first stop was the beautiful Lakewood Park, where we had a picnic by the water and even rented paddle boats. Dad tried to race us, but he ended up splashing himself instead-we couldn't stop laughing!

Next, we drove through winding mountain roads to visit Grandma and Grandpa. The scenery was amazing-lush green hills, clear blue skies, and the sweetest wildflowers lining the highways. At their place, we roasted marshmallows under the stars and listened to Grandpa's legendary camping stories. It felt so cozy being there all together.

The highlight of the trip was visiting Wavecrest Beach. My siblings and I spent hours building sandcastles, hunting for seashells, and daring each other to brave the cold waves. Mom caught the sunset on her camera, but I swear it was even more beautiful seeing it in person, all of us bundled together in beach towels, just soaking in the moment.

This trip brought us closer as a family, and it gave me so many memories to cherish. I wish you could have joined us-it would've been even more fun! Maybe next time, you can come along. Write back soon and tell me what you've been up to!

Miss you and hope to see you soon,

Your friend,
Alex
