

Dear [Writer's Name],

Thank you very much for submitting your article proposal, "[Title/Topic of Submission]." We truly appreciate the time, effort, and creativity you put into your work and for considering us as a potential platform for your writing.

After a careful review, we have decided not to move forward with your submission at this time. Please know that this was not an easy decision given the high quality of your work. We receive many outstanding pitches, and only a select few are chosen based on our current editorial needs and direction.

Custom Feedback:

[Insert personalized, constructive feedback here. For example:

"Your writing displays a clear grasp of the topic and a strong narrative voice. However, we felt the article could benefit from a more in-depth analysis and additional supporting research. Consider incorporating more first-hand interviews or data to strengthen your arguments. We also recommend reviewing our recent articles on similar subjects for a better sense of our preferred tone and structure." ]

We hope this feedback is helpful to you, and we encourage you to continue pitching us in the future. Many of our published contributors have refined their approach after receiving feedback and subsequently succeeded with later submissions.

If you have any questions or would like more detailed feedback, please don't hesitate to reach out.

Thank you again for your interest in collaborating with us. We wish you the best with your writing journey and hope to hear from you again soon.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
