

Hey Sam!

I just finished the most amazing romance novel and I couldn't wait to tell you about it! Remember how we were searching for something sweet but with just the right amount of drama? This Is It! The book is called "Hearts in Paris" and honestly, I was hooked from the very first page.

The main character, Emma, reminds me so much of you-quirky, passionate, and a total dreamer. And the chemistry she has with Daniel... Omg you're going to love their banter. There's this twist about halfway through that totally caught me off guard (no spoilers, promise), but let's just say I stayed up way too late to see how everything played out!

I kept thinking of you while reading, especially during the part when they dance in the rain-it's exactly the kind of hopelessly romantic moment we always gush over. There's just something about the author's writing that makes you root for them so hard; I finished it with the goofiest grin on my face.

You have to read it so we can talk about all the juicy moments! Let me know when you get a copy (or I can lend you mine). Can't wait for all the feels and our inevitable book swoon session over coffee.

Miss you! Hope you're well.

Lots of love,
Jess
