

Hey [Friend's Name],

I hope you're doing well! I just wanted to tell you all about my first day at my new school. I was honestly so nervous last night that I could barely sleep, but things turned out to be way more exciting than I expected!

The school building is huge compared to my old one, and I nearly got lost trying to find my classroom. Luckily, a really friendly girl named Emma helped me out. She introduced me to a bunch of people, and I already feel like I'm starting to make some friends.

All the teachers seem nice, especially my English teacher, Mr. Harris. He even cracked a joke on the first day, which made everyone laugh and eased the tension a bit. The lessons were interesting, but I definitely have a lot to catch up on.

At lunch, I was a bit worried I'd have to eat alone, but Emma invited me to sit with her group. We talked about music, movies, and even complained about homework, so I felt right at home!

I really missed you today and wished we could have experienced this together, but I can't wait to tell you more. Let's catch up soon-maybe I'll have more funny stories to share!

Take care and write back soon!

Yours,

[Your Name]